SECOND QUARTER Reflections

Fellow shareholders of the greatest club, Rotary Club of Langata!

As we reflect on the Christmas season and welcome the New Year, I am deeply grateful for the achievements of the Rotary Club of Nairobi Langata during the second quarter of the Rotary year. The period was marked by impactful service, meaningful fellowship, and steady growth.

A standout highlight was the Munyu Caravan, where, in partnership with Plascon Paints and together with the Rotary Club of Laikipia and the Laikipia Burudani Satellite Club, we embodied the Langata spirit of combining fun with service. Fellowship within the club was strengthened through Kings' and Queens' hangouts, while our commitment to inclusivity was reaffirmed through the expansion of membership categories to support continued engagement by all members.

Our service reach expanded through initiatives such as the Global Speaker Series, Pitch Pot, mentorship programs, vocational development tools, and environmental conservation activities. The quarter also concluded with the successful election of the incoming board, and I congratulate the board-elect as they prepare to serve in the coming Rotary year.

As we step into 2026, we are reminded that the New Year brings renewed opportunities to serve—through mentorship, community projects, and shared fellowship. I encourage every member to remain actively engaged, remembering that the true blessing of Rotary lies in giving of our time, skills, and resources.

I remain grateful to the board, committee chairs, and all members for their dedication. Let us continue to unite for good, have fun as we serve, and transform lives together.

Unite for Good. Serve with Joy.

Pres. Eric Sangoro

Service on the Move: The Munyu Caravan

One of the most memorable highlights of the last quarter was the Munyu Caravan, a project that perfectly embodied the Langata spirit of fun in service.

In partnership with Plascon Paints, and alongside the Rotary Club of Laikipia and the Laikipia Burudani Satellite Club, members came together to repaint Munyu Primary School, breathing new life into the learning environment.

Beyond the physical transformation of the school, the caravan was a celebration of collaboration, fellowship, and shared purpose. The journey itself—marked by laughter, connection, and teamwork—reinforced the idea that service does not have to be solemn to be impactful.

This project stood as a reminder that when Rotarians unite, the experience is just as rewarding as the outcome.

Empowering Through Vocational Service

Another standout innovation during the last quarter was The Pitch Pot, a collaborative initiative between the Vocational and Projects Committees. Designed to empower young Rotaractors, the project encouraged participants to ideate, develop, and pitch solutions aimed at addressing community needs.

By blending mentorship with practical application, The Pitch Pot brought Service Above Self to life in a sustainable and forward-thinking way. Complementing this effort, the Vocational Committee also developed a Mentorship Guide, equipping mentors with practical tools to enhance effectiveness and ensure consistency in mentorship engagements across the club.
